Covid-19

The Responsibilities of Muslims to combat this epidemic

To obey the Government Restrictions regarding Coronavirus is not only a Social Responsibility of Muslims; but also a Religious Obligation.

Islam is Practical & Progressive faith-based system that encourage people to seek medical assistance alongside relying on the power of prayer

Prophet of Islam (sa) has instructed us to observe social distancing at the outbreak of epidemics 1400 years before

Misfortune of the Muslims

Today, the whole world has become one in the fight against the Coronavirus. Various governments and private institutions are devising new schemes and adopting precautionary measures. Similarly, the central and state governments of India are also forming effective plans to fight the situation. Doctors, nurses, policemen and other government departments are toiling hard to save people from this deadly disease. But, at the same time, some recent incidents in India have resulted in blaming Islam for the spread of the virus and many have started to target against Islam in the prevailing situation.

Religious Obligation

Covid-19

To obey the Government is a Religious Obligation of a Muslim

Ahmadiyya Muslim Community India expresses its gratitude towards the central and state governments of India that they adopted various precautionary measures to control the spread of the disease and provided various guidelines to people on how to deal with the situation. Being Muslims it is our religious obligation to obey all the instructions given by the government as guided by the Holy Quran and the Holy Prophet of Islam. In the light of Islamic teachings, by obeying the government instructions, a Muslim is not only saving himself from the disease, but he is fulfilling his social responsibility and expressing his affection towards mankind, which is the core of Islamic teachings.

During Epidemics

Islam instructs to observe social distancing during epidemics

The Prophet of Islam has also instructed people suffering from any disease to maintain distance from others.

It is reported that a leprous man once wished to pledge his allegiance to him, an act that would require him to touch or hold the Holy Prophet's (saw) hand. Keeping his distance, the Holy Prophet (sa) kindly sent word to him that his pledge had already been accepted and that he should return home. (Sunan Ibn Majah)

Regarding isolation, the Holy Prophet (sa) taught that those who are sick should not in any way compromise the community at large. He said, "Do not place a sick patient with a healthy person." This teaching was extended to animals as well; "The cattle suffering from a disease should not be mixed with healthy cattle." (Sahih al-Bukhari)

Today, some Muslims find it hard to observe quarantine and social distancing while Prophet (sa) had declared these to be a religious obligation.

Covid-19

Islam & Hygiene

Islam instructs a person to remain clean and declares cleanliness to be a part of faith. A Muslim cleans his hands and nose five times a day through ablution.

Furthermore, when he would sneeze, the Holy Prophet (sa) would cover his face and muffle the sneeze, effectively containing the spread of airborne bacteria and viruses.
(Jami' al-Tirmidhi)

These practices have nowadays become an essential requirement for a person to defend against this contagious disease.

Covid-19

Medical Treatment

Islam instructs to seek medical treatment in addition to rely on prayers

Along with prayers, Islam has always instructed to use medicines for treating a disease.

The Holy Prophet (saw) also clarified that seeking medical assistance coupled with divine intervention was the key to successful treatment; “Every disease has a cure. If a cure is applied to the disease, it is relieved by the permission of Allah the Almighty”. (Sahih Muslim)

Show kindness towards mankind

Covid-19

Islam instructs to show kindness towards mankind; especially during epidemics

Free medical care and financial assistance during a pandemic are crucial in successfully controlling the spread of illness. Islam instructs Muslims to serve mankind regardless of their religion and beliefs and to help the affected in such crucial times.

It is reported that Hazrat Umar (ra) once came across a group of Christians afflicted with leprosy. He immediately ordered that a financial help to be provided to them and instructed to provide them medical assistance.

The true Islam

Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at India representing the true Islam

These are the golden teachings of Islam which are in complete accord with human instinct. Prophet (sa) has instructed to adopt all the precautionary measures and medical assistances which are necessary in case of contagious diseases. The Ahmadiyya Muslim Community is actively following all these guidelines as prescribed by Islam during this outbreak of Covid-19.

But today, some Muslims, as a result of forgetting the true teachings of Islam, are unaware of their religious and social responsibilities.

Hazrat Mirza Ghulam Ahmad
Qadiani عليه السلام
The Promised Messiah

At a time when Muslims had completely forgotten the teachings of Islam, Hazrat Mirza Ghulam Ahmad (as) laid the foundation of Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at in 1889 to inform the world of the true, Pure and Pristine spirit of Islamic teachings. This community was founded with the objective of establishing peace, justice and high Islamic & Moral virtues. As stated by the founder, this community was established to fulfill mainly two objectives. To create a living bond between man and his Creator by granting him a complete wisdom of His existence and to develop in man a strong feeling of love and empathy towards his fellow beings. This is the soul of Islamic teachings. Today, by the grace of God, Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at, India is representing the true Islam in the world.

Hazrat Mirza Masroor Ahmad الذی اراد تعالیٰ بنصرہ العزیز
Khalifatul Masih V

Ahmadiyya Muslim community India is a community which totally abides by the teachings of Islam. Obedience to government instructions is a distinctive characteristic of this community. On 27 march 2020, the worldwide Head of the Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at, through his special message, instructed all Ahmadi Muslims residing in 213 countries around the world and said that it is the responsibility of all Ahmadis to obey the government restrictions of their respective nations. He stressed that every Ahmadi should observe the daily prayers and Friday prayers in their homes with their families if religious gatherings are restricted by the authorities. He also instructed them to remain in their homes obeying the government orders and to use this time to increase their knowledge. He also instructed his followers to focus more on prayers during this time.

ABOUT The Friday Sermon

The Corona Pandemic : Our Duties and Responsibilities

His Holiness (aba) explained that at the time of natural disasters, we should do our utmost to fulfil the rights of God and His people. We must pray with anguish and passion in order to seek the mercy of God. His Holiness (aba) advised that one should adhere to the recommended precautions, show kindness and compassion to those affected by the epidemic, but one should not take any unnecessary risks. His Holiness (aba) advised that people should not go to each other's homes unnecessarily, sit idly in parks, and any exercise should be done close to home. His Holiness further stated that one ought to take caution against any unnecessary risks and said anything contrary to this would be ignorant and not bravery.

His Holiness (aba) reiterated the message of maintaining extreme cleanliness in homes, observing hygienic practices and keeping clothes clean. Along with physical cleanliness, cleansing and purification of the heart is also required. One ought to bring their deeds in total accordance with the wishes of God.

His Holiness (aba) then further advised the need of prayers, saying one should remember that prayer is the most powerful of means. One ought to pray with the belief and conviction that God listens to prayers. Pray for yourself, your family, the community and the whole of humanity.

OBEYING

The lockdown rules

Ahmadis are at the front in obeying the lockdown rules

Government instructions are fully implemented in Qadian, which is the national headquarters of the Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at India. Ahmadi Muslims are observing their prayers in their homes. A senior police officer of this district told the Media, "Qadian is number one in this district in obeying the rules of the lockdown". Not just Qadian, Ahmadi Muslims all over India have valued the instructions of the government. A senior police officer of Kulgam Kashmir had this to say at the funeral of an Ahmadi Muslim, "This community has systematically obeyed all instructions of lockdown. I did not have to give any instructions to them, instead they themselves did everything in a well organised manner."

Relief Services of

Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at INDIA

Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at's youth wing 'Khuddamul Ahmadiyya' and the community's charitable organization 'Humanity First' are nowadays involved in helping the needy in their difficult times.

As per the instruction of our worldwide leader, some preventive Homoeopathic medicines had been distributed all over India, to at least 50,000 people within the initial stage when this disease had not spread much in this country. Moreover, in association with health departments, Ahmadiyya Muslim Jama'at has tried to create awareness regarding the disease in about 15 different regions. We have distributed masks and sanitizers to about 2000 people living in rural areas. After the announcement of the lockdown, the volunteers of the community have distributed rations and essentials to above 15000 families of daily wagers after acquiring permission from concerned departments. We have also been able to provide food to above 40,000 people. Our volunteers are still working tirelessly to help the poor in this crucial time.

Today, it is essential that we pray to God more and more and obey all instructions from the government in this regard. We should altogether try to fight this crisis. May God save the world from this deadly disease. (Amin)
